Hana Shows Patriotism

In Celebrating Fourth

The Fourth was a red letter day in the annals of Hana, for never in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, has that town, had so many enthusiastic people together as came to celebrate the 145th anniversary of the birth of the greatest nation on the face of the earth, as collected in Hana, that day.

The exercises, began with the reading of the Declaration of Independence, followed by mob singing of the National Hymn.

Sports, consisting of races of various kinds and tugs of war followed and much enjoyment was had through them.

The best luau, that was ever prepared, was partaken of by fully 1,000 people and after ever one was filled to repletion, a very exciting and closely contested baseball game was on the tapis, between "The Whites" and "The All Comers" resulting in victory for "The Whites" although the score stood 4 to 4 at the beginning of the 9th inning.

In the evening moving picture and a dance at the Community House wound up the days entertainment, and every one went home, tired and happy, declaring that they never had enjoyed themselves better, or had crowded, so much pleasure into one day.

Much credit is due the committee and its chairman Mr. Nevegold, for the excellent program and the manner it was carried out, to the deputy sheriff and his wife who had charge of the luau and to the boys from Kilauea, who added snap to the entertainment and were upstaring in their efforts to see that every one had a good time.

OBITUARY

ALLAN HERBERT

After more than 49 years residence in the Islands Allan Herbert, one time hotel man, authority par excellence in cookery, small farmer and horticulturist by hobby, and one time prominent in democratic politics passed away in Honolulu at the age of 93.

Allan Herbert came to the Islands in 1878 from California where he was one of the pioneers during the gold rush, coming when the Hawaiian government built and opened the Royal Hawaiian Hotel as its first manager.

There he won popularity and became an "institution" in Honolulu. A lavish entertainer, an expert cook, with horticulture and small gardening as hobbies he was a favorite with royalty and with the public. Especially he showed interest in Kapiolani Park and advanced ideas for its early beautification.

Mr. Herbert was a democrat before coming to the Islands and after annexation continued a democrat. He was elected delegate to the national democratic convention in 1912 but was taken ill en route across the continent and had to return home.

An extensive traveler, he was an interesting talker and his conversation was ever interesting. For the past two or three years his health had been failing steadily. He leaves no relatives in the Islands and had long lost track of relatives in Sweden where he was born about 93 years ago.

CLARENCE W. ASHFORD

Former Circuit Judge Clarence W. Ashford of Honolulu died at his Beretania Street home last Saturday night following an illness of several months.

He had been a resident of Honolulu for 28 years and had been a prominent figure both in the days of monarchy and since annexation.

Judge Ashford came to Hawaii in 1883 at the suggestion of his cousin, S. G. Wilder and entered the practice of law in the office of late Chief Justice Hartwell. A progressive in those days he was one of those who inaugurated a bloodless revolution in 1887 as result of which a new constitution providing for responsibility of ministers was forced upon the government.

In the new cabinet appointed under the new constitution Ashford was attorney general and held that office for three years. He then resumed the practice of law.

At the time of the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani, Ashford was jailed as a Royalist and later sent to California where he remained until 1902. On his return he twice ran for the senate independently and was both times defeated. In 1914 he was appointed Circuit Judge and following his retirement he sought the nomination for county attorney on the democratic ticket but was defeated by Heen in the primaries.

Judge Ashford was born at Port Hope, Ontario, Canada in 1857. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan from which he received the degree of L.L.D. in 1880. He is survived by three children, Stanley H. H. of Canada, Huron K. and Marguerite K.

MISS RUTH EDMONDS

After an illness of three years of tuberculosis, contracted while in war work in France, Miss Ruth Harriet Edmonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Edmonds, died at her home on North Pleasant street, Oberlin, O., on May 28, at the age of 20.

At the entrance of the United States into the world war Miss Edmonds was engaged as nurse at Maunaloa Seminary. She left her work there to go overseas and for a year saw service in France. Her strength was not equal to the task and when tubercular trouble developed she was brought to America and was admitted to a government hospital at Denver, Colo. For a time it was hoped that her condition would show improvement, but when it became evident that hope was vain she was brought to her home, where a trained nurse was employed to attend her. Miss Edmonds made a brave, but unavailing fight for life and health.

After a course in the public schools of Oberlin Miss Edmonds took a training course in St. Luke's hospital at Cleveland and soon after began her work in Hawaii. She was an earnest student in school and enthusiastic in her professional work. In addition to her parents she is survived by two sisters, Helen and Marie, and one brother, Harlan.

The funeral was held at the family home at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 31. Interment was made at Westwood. The American Legion attended as a body and members of the Women's Auxiliary.—Oberlin, O., News.

There has been a reduction in price of twenty-five per cent. That means that the cost of operating a

IT SAVES DOLLARS

What?

Burning Out Carbon

The old way of taking down the engine and scraping out the carbon costs the car owner from $20 to $25 and he loses the use of his automobile for a day or two. We burn out the carbon in about an hour and charge only one dollar a cylinder. You can figure the saving for yourself, from $14 to $19 on your car and you do not lose the use of it, which is important.

METHOD NOT HARMFUL

The idea that heat will injure the engine is erroneous. The heat used in burning out is mild and does not harm it in the least. The method is new to the Islands but is common practice on the mainland. Let us tell you of some of your neighbors who have tried it. You can ask them how they are pleased.
